

IDAHO AGC EDUCATION FOUNDATION

Attention Future Contractors: Multiple Scholarships Available

The Idaho Associated General Contractors (AGC) is the state's largest, most trusted network of construction professionals. Our more than 700 member companies build the commercial spaces, public works, educational institutions, multi-family housing complexes, retail and manufacturing centers, and other public spaces where everyday Idahoans live, work, recreate, worship, and educate their children along with the roads, bridges, airports, and utility networks that connect them all together.

Through the generosity of its members, the Idaho AGC Education Foundation annually awards scholarships of up to $1,500 each to full-time, higher education students seeking a career in construction. While each award is for a single academic year, students who receive the award may apply again in the following years. Scholarships are awarded through the Idaho AGC's Education Foundation, a 401(c)3 charity.

Eligible applicants must meet all of the following criteria:

- A U.S. citizen OR a legal resident.
- Enrolled, as a full-time student in an accredited institution of higher education located within the state of Idaho OR be an Idaho resident currently living within Idaho and be enrolled as a full-time student in an accredited online institution of higher education.
- Have accumulated sufficient college credit hours, greater than 30, to be designated a sophomore, junior, or senior.
- Have officially declared a construction-related major such as Construction Management, Civil Engineering, Material Engineering, Business Administration with a Construction emphasis, or other fields of study directly connected to the construction industry.
- Have a cumulative GPA greater than 2.8.
- Submit a complete application packet prior to the deadline.

A complete application packet must include the following:

- ✓ A complete and signed application form (below).
- ✓ A current transcript. Official transcripts are preferable, however, unofficial transcripts will be accepted provided they are formatted in a manner that all required information is clearly legible, including your declared major.
- ✓ An essay of no less than 500 words that covers (1) your connection to the construction industry, (2) your construction-related activities while attending school such as participating in student activities, work opportunities within the industry while in school, and internships, and (3) your future career goals in the construction industry.
- ✓ At least one letter of recommendation, written within the past 3 months.
- ✓ Your resume/CV.

Preference may be given to applicants who demonstrate active participation in relevant student organizations or other activities such as an AGC-sponsored Student Chapter and/or the annual ASC Student Competition.

The deadline for the 2025/2026 academic year is 4:00 pm (Mountain) on Monday, April 28, 2025. Incomplete application packets or packets submitted after the deadline will not be considered. Applicants will be notified of the status of their application by the end of June. Awards will be distributed to the student's college or university financial aid office in time for the fall semester.

Applications should be sent to:
